DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 48, 54, 56 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims contain the limitation, reading a time of exiting a reduced power consumption state prior to exiting the reduced power consumption state in response to an interrupt. It is not possible to determined the time of exiting if it is not yet happened, therefor the "time of exiting" a reduced power consumption state prior to exiting is not obtainable. Clarification is needed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 5 and 48-60 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dunstan [US 5,714,870].

Regarding claims 48-60, Dunstan discloses an electronic device configured for monitoring power consumed while said device is in a reduced power condition, comprising an electrical energy storage unite powering said device, a processor, a memory, a display device and a power consumption monitor, said power consumption monitor including means for respectively determining when said electronic device enters and exits the reduced-power state, a means for determining a charge capacity of said electrical energy storage unit before and after said electronic device is in the reduced power state, a means for determining a period of time for calculating charge capacity lost by said electrical energy storage unit during the period of time that the electronic device is in the reduced power state [see claim 13]; a means/method for interruption causing the processor to enter a reduced-power mode of operation [column 5; lines 36-39]. Dunstan discloses the claimed invention except the entering time is stored in the chip. The examiner takes official notice that it is well known to use chips to store data/information in the micro-processing environment such as notebook computer. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at time of the invention was made to store data in a chip or a memory means in Dunstan to facilitate rapid access to stored data for calculations purpose.

Regarding claims, 1-3 and 5, the method steps are necessitated by the apparatus structure.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 06/04/07 have been considered but they are moot in view of the new 35 U.S.C. 112 of rejection.
